

Fixed Wing Flight Cost Estimates for 2020-2021

The Flight Center recently completed a review of the pilot ratings required to qualify for graduation. The expected cost in today's dollars to qualify for graduation is approximately $55,067. Students and their families should allocate a minimum of $13,767/year for flight training on a four-year flying program.

The Certified Flight Instructor rating is not required to qualify for graduation but it is highly encouraged.*

Private Pilot (FLI 131)

Expected Cost $ 13,619

Includes

62 Dual C172	$11,904
7.5 Solo C172	$1,080
2.25 AATD	$225
10 Ground Instruction	$410

Instrument Rating (FLI 231)

Expected Cost $ 8,730

Includes

35 Dual C172	$6,720
16 AATD	$1,600
10 Ground Instruction	$410

Commercial Pilot (FLI 132, 232, 334)

Expected Cost $ 23,170

Includes

58 Dual C172	$11,136
66 Solo Aircraft	$9,504
13 AATD	$1,300
30 Ground Instruction	$1,230

Multi-Engine Rating (FLI 435)

Expected Cost $ 9,548

Includes

23 Dual PA44	$7,498
5 Ground Instruction	$2,050

* Certified Flight Instructor (FLI 431)

Expected Cost $ 6,747

Includes

28 Dual C172	$5,376
1 AATD	$100
31 Ground Instruction	$1,271