

RJ GAMBLE (C'27)

My name is RJ Gamble, and I am majoring in flight operations with a minor in business. Originally from Wheeling, Illinois, I have been grateful for the many opportunities to stay actively involved across campus since arriving at UD. I am a member of the men's basketball team and the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC). I work as a sports information assistant, helping with stats, video, and game operations. I also serve as a student ambassador, where I guide prospective students and share all that UD has to offer.

As a transfer student, I quickly found a welcoming and supportive community that made UD feel like home. After graduation, I plan to remain in Dubuque and work as a certified flight instructor at UD, helping train the next generation of UD pilots. The support that I've received through scholarships, programs, and facilities has made a meaningful impact on my experience. I am incredibly grateful for the donors who make these opportunities possible. Because of their generosity, I have found a place where I can grow and build a future that I am excited about. I am so happy to be a Spartan!
